Christmas in Australia is often very hot. In Hong Kong, Christmas is in the winter but in Australia it is in the summer. It is not unusual for Christmas Day in Australia to be over 30 degrees Celsius. A traditional Christmas meal in Australia often includes a turkey dinner with ham, and pork.

Christmas in Australia

Some Australians have their Christmas dinner in the early afternoon at a nearby beach. Bondi Beach in Sydney usually has thousands of people visit on Christmas Day. Other families may enjoy the day by having a picnic.
